Cool Serge Suits for Men

The man who is provided with a good serge suit is pretty well fortified, both as to comfort and good looks, during the Summer season, provided_

The serge is pure worsted

The color absolutely fast The lining made as light as possible

The tailoring done in the intelligent and careful manner necessary where the fabric is thin, and not bolstered up with heavy linings.

On every one of these vital points a man is absolutely certain of getting all that good service requires if he buys a Wanamaker Serge Suit. Of course, we would not think of denying that there are many other careful stores, but there are hundreds of others where there can be no such quality assurance. The serge suit is either a delight to the man that wears it, or a disgrace to him; and when the serge suit that is guaranteed in every way can be bought at the most reasonable price, the wise man will not take the risk of getting the other sort. The WANAMAKER guarantee goes with every serge suit we sell.

Single-breasted Sack Coat Suits of blue or black serge, at $12 to $25. Double-breasted Sack Coat Suits of blue serge, at $15 to $30.

The Governor also signed Senator Elsberg's two bills, which are aimed to help Chairman Odell elect a straight-out Republican candidate for Mayor in New York city next fall. The bills authorize Superintendent of the Metropolitan Elections District George W. Morgan to appoint 400 instead of 600 deputies to serve around election time, and 100 permanent deputies fifty at a ealary of $1.200 each, 50 at $900 each and the others at $5 for each day's service not exceeding forty days a year. Supt. Morgan also is authorized to appoint a secretary at a salary of $2,000, and his clerk and ten deputies to be designated are permitted to edminister oaths.

Proprietors of lodging houses or hotels are required to furnish Supt. Morgan each year, a month previous to election day. a description of the premises, the names of guests and employees and of the mem-bers of their own families. Boards of registry are required to furnish Mr. Morgan with separate cards, giving the name of each person registered and the answers to any questions asked them at the time of registering. In New York city the number of voters in a district is cut from 650 to 500, and the last day of registration shall not be later than the twenty-ninth day before election, in order to give Supt. Morgan ample time to investigate supposed fraudulent registration.

In New York city on an application to strike a name from the registry list an affidavit of one of Mr. Morgan's deputies that he investigated the case and that the person is not entitled to be registered from the address given shall be presumptive evidence against the right of the elector to register, which may be rebutted only by the oral testimony under oath or affidavit of the elector whose name is sought to be stricken from the register.

Gov. Higgins has signed the three bills of Senator Raines and the one introduced by Senator Lewis amending the Raines liquor tax law, the latter providing that new consents must be secured for a saloon or premises where a liquor tax certificate has been revoked. The Raines bills provide that a person selling any kind of a beverage which requires a United States internal revenue license must hold a Raines law certificate also, abolish the pharmacist's stand the selection of the selecti

Assemblyman Lafetra's bill amending the Penal Code in relation to the misconduct of officers at the drawing of jurors and the formation of a jury was also signed.

All escheat bills in the hands of the Governor have been vetoed by him in the following memorandum:

I have not approved the greater number of these bills either because the general law affords adequate relief, because the bills did not receive a two-thirds vote as required by the Constitution or because the party seeking the release of the State's interest in the lands showed no substantial equity. All escheat bills are based on a wrong principle. If a man dies leaving resident heirs the State collects a transfer tax from his estate; if he

If he succeeds the State not only loses the transfer tax but also bears the cost of giving away its own property. It is estimated that the expense of printing and passing a bill averages $750. This is poor business on the part of the State. The Commissioners of the Land Office should have ample power to deal with all such cases and no special eacheat bill should be sent to the Governor unless the petitioner pays the cost, tax and all necessary expenses. TWO VETOES BY THE GOVERNOR. Ambler's Pure Food Bill and Bill for vetoed Senator Ambler's bill relative to prosecutions by the State Agricultural Department for violations of the pure ood law. He says in a memorandum:

"Either the title of this bill is misleading or else the bill itself is defectively drafted. It does not, as suggested by the title, amend the agricultural law relative to condensed milk alone, but it establishes rules of evidence and procedure governing the possession and seizure of any article of food the sale of and setzure of any article of food the sale of which is prohibited by the agricultural law. These rules are in my opinion extraordinarily and unnecessarily arbitrary. They shift the burden of proof from the State to the accused and permit the trial of serious charges upon affidavits. I doubt that the procedure would be sustained as 'due process of law.'

The Governor also vetoed Senator Davis's bill for a union railroad station on the lake front in Buffalo. This measure has been a source of contention between the Eric county legislators and the Board of Aldermen. The bill permits the city to lend its credit to an unlimited amount for the purpose of securing land as a site for the station; which provision the Governor holds to be a nullification of a constitutional restriction. Governor also vetoed Senator Davis's

NO TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM. Town Board of Mamakating, Sullivan

County, Votes Against It. MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., June 2 .- Despite the efforts of Dr. Thomas Darlington, president of the New York city Board of Health, to secure permission to locate a tuberculosis sanitarium on the top of the Shawangunk Mountains at Bloomingburg, the Town Board of Mamakating to-day decided, by a vote of 4 to 2, against the project. That part of Sullivan county has been on the verge of a civil war for the last few months, many citizens advocating the sanitarium, while the majority were against it.

Dr. Darlington was ably assisted in his efforts to locate the sanitarium by Dr. Herman N. Biggs, general medical officer of the New York Board of Health and president of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. These men have worked strenuously to secure a location, but their efforts have failed, and it is said they will now turn their attention to Orange county.

In connection with the sanitarium project, the Bloomingburg Board of Trade to-day received a mysterious postal card at the top of which was written: "Riverside Hospital, New York." It was signed "Native." It is as follows:

The house is a three story, brownstone one, and is occupied by the Emanon Club. The police say they have great syndicates to operate subways and been watching it for some time. Just after the first race at Gravesend yesterday they started the raid.

Two men were just entering when the police arrived and pushed in. The police police arrived and pushed in. The police say there were about fifty men in the place industriously studying dope sheets and charts while waiting for the next race. Half the number made a dash for the rear windows and escaped. The prisoners said they were William Raymond of 225 West Thirty-fifth street, the treasurer of the club, and John Rice of 246 West Fifty-sixth street, the secretary.

The police chopped out one telephone, one telegraph instrument and a new kind of electrical recording device. They took also a quantity of charts, dope sheets and cards. Raymond had a big roll in his pocket, but the police allowed him to keep it.

When the men were arraigned in the West Side court their lawyer pleaded that there was no evidence because the detecthere was no evidence because the detectives had seen no bets made.

AFTEB EX-CONVICT LAWYER. District Attorney Jerome Pressing Case Against John F. Dorthy.

District Attorney Jerome is preparing to present to the Special Sessions Judges a case against John F. Dorthy, who is accused of practising law in this city without license. It is charged that Dorthy offered to act as attorney for Joseph B. Lawrence in a suit in Westchester county. When Dorthy was arraigned before Magistrate Crane in the Tombs police court for examination. Assistant District Attorney Appleton asked him:

"Have you ever been convicted of a crime?"

"Yes, four times," said Dorthy.

It then appeared that Dorthy, who was well known in Rochester at one time, had been convicted there of larceny and sent to Auburn for three years. He was also convicted on three other charges, but then the Court of Appeals reversed the decisions.

"Lawyer Moore of Cantwell & Moore appeared for Dorthy. He said that Dorthy was only a clerk and had been acting for the firm in the Lawrence case. Magistrate Crane held Dorthy in $300 bail for trial.

It is said that the District Attorney is investigating other cases against Dorthy.

Argues for Municipal Ownership of All Future Subways.

President Martin W. Littleton of the Borough of Brooklyn came out yesterday with a statement in relation to the queswhich he sava:

The city is asked now to repeat the mistake of twenty-five years ago by letting go of these great rights and authorizing these collect fares sufficient to maintain them and pay large dividends. The city is to get in return on option to take these subways back at the end of seventy-five years. What may occur between now and the end of seventy-five years is too long a range to predict. It is claimed that this is necessary because there is now $200,000,000 worth of subway building to do, and the city could not do that much within its debt limit.

Of course, if the $200,000,000 was to be spent in any one year, this is true, but the city was able to furnish all the money for the rapid completion of the Belmont-McDonald subway, and not impair its credit, and I do not see any reason why it cannot do the same again. The Belmont subway has shown that there is big money in the subway business, and the question naturally arises, Why should the city not get this money instead of a syndicate?

The answer to that is that it was an experiment; but then, if this is so, surely the next one, in view of the earnings of the first one, is not an experiment. The claim that the city could not afford to charge $200,000,000 against its debt limit is not sound, for the necessity of the work would not require the sale of any more bonds for any one year than in the Belmont subway, and the city stood that easily.

In this contest politics is playing, and will play a very important part, and those who thought I was premature in my statement that municipal ownership of future subways would be an issue will find it to be a very present issue. If New York city loses this opportunity to take possession and control of its transportation interests, it will have given up the last opportunity in the next fifty years. collect fares sufficient to maintain them and pay large dividends. The city is to

HYPNOTIZED IN CHICAGO.

Queer Plight of Man Who Should Have Sailed for Europe Last Tuesday. Christian Petersen, a homeless Dane, was arraigned in the West Side court yesterday by a Holmes patrolman named Hart.

"He was ringing all the doorbells along Ninety-fourth street, between Central Park West and Columbus avenue, long after midnight," said Hart.

When arrested Petersen looked stupidly at his captor for a while and then muttered some unintelligible words. Finally he said he had been hypnotized in Chicago by an unknown man and that he was still under the spell. Magistrate Pool said the man must have been drugged and remanded him to the prison for a couple of days to recover. Petersen had $31 and a draft for $125, besides a Cunard Line ticket for England. As the ticket was for a steamer sailing last Tuesday, the police think the man is on his way back to his native land and that he has been wandering about in a dazed condition for several days.
